

Additional information for individuals in the State of California, US

HPE's privacy practices are aligned with the requirements of the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA). If you reside in California, we are required to provide additional information to you about how we use and disclose your personal data, and you may have additional rights with regard to how we use your personal data.

Personal data. Consistent with the "How we use personal data" section in our Privacy Statement, we collect certain categories and specific pieces of information about individuals that are considered "personal information" under the CCPA. Specifically, we may collect the following types of personal data:

- Identifiers: contact details, identification information.
- Commercial information: information required to purchase our products and services online, information about profile, role and preferences.
- Internet or other electronic network activity information: login credentials, digital activity information.
- Other personal information: records of good standing, comments and feedback from online forums and surveys, CCTV footage, information about alleged misconducts, information included in enquires and complaints, information made publicly available on professional social networks.

Sources. We may collect certain categories of personal data from you and other third parties as described in the "How we use personal data" section in our Privacy Statement. The categories of third parties from whom we may collect personal data include the following:

- Partners, resellers and/or distributors;
- Public authorities;
- Third party applications (such as social networks);
- Advertising networks; and
- Other companies or organizations (such as market research firms and data aggregators).

Purposes. We collect your personal data for the business and commercial purposes described in the "How we use personal data" section in our Privacy Statement. We also share and/or disclose your personal data as follows:

- Sharing your personal data for business purposes: As described in the "How we share personal data" section in our Privacy Statement, we may share your contact details, login credentials, information from publicly available resources and information from your complaints and/or inquiries, within the HPE group of companies, with third parties, with partners, resellers and/or distributors, and with public or government authorities. As described above, examples of business purposes include product and service fulfilment, due diligence screening, security and authentication, prevention of misconduct, and resolving complaints.
- Sale of personal data: By using Automatic Data Collection Tools on our websites and applications, we may share some of your digital activity information with third parties in order to receive information about performance of our marketing campaigns. Sharing personal data in this manner may constitute a "sale" under the CCPA.

Your rights in relation to your personal data. Subject to certain exceptions, as a California resident, you have the right to:

- Request that we disclose access to your personal data;
- Request deletion of your personal data;
- Request information about the personal data we have disclosed for a business purposes and/or “sold” (as such term is defined under the CCPA) to third parties within the past 12 months; and
- Opt-out of the “sale” of your personal data, as detailed above and below.

“Do Not Sell My Personal Information”. You have the right, as a California resident, to opt-out of the “sale” of your personal data, i.e. our use of Automatic Data Collection Tools. If you wish to exercise this right, please click on the “Do Not Sell My Personal Information” link available at the hpe.com home page and exercise your opt-out right on the subsequent web page.

If you are a California resident and wish to exercise any of the rights described in this section, you may use the following methods to submit a request in relation to your personal data:

- Contact the HPE Privacy Office via an email;
- Contact the HPE Privacy Office by completing the form available here;
- Contact the HPE Privacy Office via the toll free number 1-866-I-OPT-OUT (i.e. 1-866-4-678-688) and by choosing HPE code 115.

You must include your name, street address, city, state, and zip code in your request. You may be asked to provide additional proof of identification so that we can verify your identity and validate the request. Please note that in order to opt-out from Automatic Data Collection Tools you need to use “Do Not Sell My Personal Information” link and web page as we do not have the ability to connect your name with your device(s).

To the extent that you elect to designate an authorized agent to make a request on your behalf, the above methods to submit a request apply. Please note that you are limited by law in the number of requests you may submit per year.
